AN UNSCRUPULOUS BOYCOTTER.

Mr Cannons's Little Romance, and What There Was In It.

Young Men's Mutual Improvement Associotion of that ward was held. It had been previously intimated that a boythis meeting, and the result was a general staying at home by the young men, and a very small gathering at the meeting house. When the boycotting matter came up, Mr. George M. Cannon, the young man who inherited the recordership of Salt Lake County, arose and delivered a speech in favor of it. He apparently considered that some very extraordinary and unusual means were required to influence the young people in this nonsensical business, and therefore proceeded to relate a highly sensational romance, purporting to be an account of something that transpired between himself and "a prominent member of the Pioneer Building Association, who was also a member of the Democrat Company." This gentleman, Mr. Cannon said, had Opera House, Thursday evening, March | called at his office on business, and in the course of conversation the matter of Mor-mons and Gentiles dealing with each other had arose. Mr. Cannon had said that he would not patronize a Gentile and in the course of an entire year did not expend over $2 with outsiders, and asked his Gentile caller if that was not right. Why, certainly it is," was the response. "I do the same thing myself," and Mr. Cannon proceeded to relate how the Democrar stockholder went right out and cursed the d-d Mormons" all the way up the street.

The above story was told by Mr. Cannon for the purpose of influencing the vote on the boycotting resolution, and possibly of dealing the Democrar a blow. The first object was accomplished, for the resolution was passed, all but one or two of the small assemblage voting for it.

A Democrat reporter, upon hearing of Mr. Cannon's speech, was convinced that the story was either a fabrication or a distortion of facts, and proceeded to investigate the matter. With "a prominent member of the Pioneer Building Associa-The gold discovery bears were offering to bet $200 yesterday afternoon that a piece of rock containing gold could not be for a cue he succeeded in unearth-ing the whole matter, and will give the story to the public for the double purpose of exonerating the Democrat stockholder and showing what unscrupulous and extraordinary methods are used to create

The gentleman referred to by Mr. Cannon we will call Mr. A., and he related the circumstance as follows: Mr. A. called at Mr. Cannon's office with Mr. B., a real estate dealer, for the purpose of canceling a mortgage.
"What do you think?" said Mr.

"I think that's all right," replied Can-

"I am glad to hear you say that," said

"But I don't wan't you to understand that I endorse the Democrat," explained Mr. Cannon. "But I think an advertise ment in the Democrat would do Mr. B. more good than the one he has in the News. A Mormon would be a fool to Another safe was added to the furniture patronize a Gentile when those of his Jones' bank this afternoon. Half-a- own church are in the same business. I get of Mormons. Don't you think that is right, Mr. A. Wouldn't you trade

Sometime after leaving the court house Mr. A. alluded to the subject and "Isn't it outrageous for a man, supported by public money to boast that he never spends a cent with anyone who is not a member of his church?"

This circumstance was the foundation upon which Mr. Cannon erected his structure of falsehoods and misrepresentations. The necessity for the use of such means to pass a boycotting resolution indicates that the young people are not very enthusiastic in the movement.

It may not be out of place to state in this connection that none of the gentlemen who compose the Democrat Company are in the habit of "cursing the d-d Mormons" or any other religious sect; neither would any of them hesitate to close a business transaction with a Mormon or non-Mormon because of his religious or non-religious belief.
